News Letter

FRIDAY 29th November 2019 Issue 012

Dear Parents/Carers,

This week has been a very exciting week in our school. Our Christmas trees have arrived and will be decorated by our youngest children. Last Friday, our Key Stage 2 children were visited by the author, Dan Freeman. Dan is the author of the Jamie Johnson stories which are televised on the CBBC channel. He was an inspiring speaker and the children thoroughly enjoyed the experience of talking to a professional author. Yesterday, our nursery children and many of their parents visited Ash End House Farm in Staffordshire, and had a lovely time seeing and feeding the animals. Much fun was had by all!

This week across the school, many children have been taking part in assessment activities in order to assess their understanding of what they have learnt and what we need to work on further. The progress of the children has been good this term.

Everyone is working very hard. Well done children and staff and a massive thankyou to all of our parents who support their children at home.

Finally, as you are aware, the weather is turning much colder. Please do make sure that your child is sent to school suitably dressed for the weather. Trainers are not part of our school uniform, and are not suitable footwear, particularly when the children are outside at this time of year.

Thank you as ever for all of your support. Have a lovely weekend with your families.

Kind regards,

Lisa Gillam
Head Teacher

Please return photograph orders to the school office no later than

Friday 6th December

Thank you!

PE KITS

We have noticed a number of children without PE kits in school which is resulting in phone calls home to parents.

Please ensure your child has a PE kit in school - t-shirt, shorts or joggers and black pumps.

Your child will bring their PE kit home at the end of each half term for washing.

Many thanks.
