Dear Parents/Carers,

We have had a great first week back in school this week. The children have all settled down very quickly to their learning after their holiday, and many of them have brought their creative home learning projects into school. Everybody has worked extremely hard, and a huge thank you to all of the mums, dads, brothers and sisters who worked with the children to help them make their projects. They are amazing. We will be giving out prizes to the children for their home learning and the winning projects will be displayed in the entrance hall. Well done to everyone who worked so hard at home. I know that your teachers found making the decisions extremely difficult.

I have also seen lots of children who have read at home at least thirty times this term. This is an amazing achievement and well done to everyone who has achieved this goal. We have Parents' Workshops starting next week which have a reading focus. There will be lots of ideas about how you can help your child at home in this very important area. We really appreciate your attendance as support at home really does help children to make good progress at school.

Finally, just a reminder that as the weather is becoming colder, please ensure that your child comes to school every day appropriately dressed for the weather.

Have a lovely weekend with your families and a safe, enjoyable Bonfire Night.

Best wishes,

Lisa Gillam
