Dear Parents/Carers,

Many of you have been into school this week to support your children at our Parent Workshops. I hope that you have acquired some useful ideas for you to use with your child at home to support them in their reading. The children have loved having you come into school, and showing you what they are doing. Workshops in the remaining year groups are continuing next week, so please can you, or another adult who knows your child well make every effort to attend if possible? Thank you so much for your support and your feedback on what you would like us to do next. We really do appreciate it. Our Reading Super Hero also visited the children yesterday and chose children who have read consistently at home the opportunity to choose a book of their choice from our magic book boxes. The children were very excited.

Also this week, class 4M performed a wonderful assembly on the theme of Remembrance. Unfortunately, I had a meeting to attend but I am reliably informed that the children spoke, sang and acted beautifully. They delivered their message thoughtfully and with great maturity. Thank you 4M for a super, thought provoking assembly.

Next Friday (17th November) will be Children in Need. We will be selling some merchandise to support this. Please see overleaf for further information. We will also be having a non-uniform day to raise money for this important charity that works with children and their families across the UK.

Have a lovely weekend with your families.

Best wishes,
Lisa Gillam

Internet safety:

- Place your children's computers where you can see them, where possible in communal rooms.
- Always know what they're doing and who they're talking to.
- Explain to them that not everyone online tells the truth and they should never meet strangers without a known adult present.
- Teach your children the Click Code: Zip it (keep personal information private), Block it (block disturbing messages), Flag it (report anything worrying to you).
